

Comments to Group Work Experience:

How we organized it?

- Weekly meeting with changing moderator/ note taker
- Mostly hybrid such that (nearly) everyone could always join
- Used tools: Jira, Confluence, Slack
- Assigned tasks to a subgroup of people and communicated within that group via slack channels

What was good?

- We were able to improve our group work over the weeks
- Confluence and Slack worked especially well
- After a “starting period” in the beginning everyone found/assigned their responsibility and worked proactively on it
- The Coding sessions were very effective, so that people that were stuck at some point were able to find help in the group.

What could be improved?

- We sometimes did reflect what was good/bad, maybe we could have done it more often and more explicit
- It was not always clear, what exact task everyone was doing, so that is happened that multiple people worked on the same issue simultaneously without knowing so. We realized how important good communication is and learned to improve that by chatting on slack more frequently.
-